CITY NEWS.

Henry Simon, who has for several years been a carrier of the Democrat in the upper portion of the city, and who has been a carrier of the paper by faithful and attentive carriers. Should any one fail to receive the paper, we will at once remedy the neglect. If

Mr. W. W. Swearer, who has long resided in the upper portion of the city, has been named as to look after the distribution of the Democrat above Third street. He will see that ample arrangements are made for the prompt distribution of the paper as much earlier hour than heretofore.

FOUNDERS AND MACHINISTS.—We have for sale from two to three hundred pounds of good type metal, suitable for journals, which we will sell soon if application is made at the Democratic office.

EXTENSIVE SWINDLING OPERATION.—ARREST OF THE PARTIES.—Since the commencement of the gigantic rebellion, which lasted for four years, and which has just been ended, Uncle Sam has been swindled out of hundreds of thousands dollars through the means of dishonest employees, some of whom have escaped, while many have been arrested and punished.

One of the most extensive pieces of swindling that has taken place in our city during the time, it was the duty of these parties to attend to the receiving and weighing of the cattle that were received and sent from that place. It was a rule that not more than seven head should be driven on the scales at one time, but in the delivery of the cattle nine would be put on the scales, and the weight of the nine reported as that of seven, so that the speculators would pocket the proceeds of two head of cattle at each and every weighing.

When we remember the thousands of cattle passed through their hands in the course of a month it will be seen that the profits arising from the swindles were enormous. The extra cattle made by the weighing were, during the night, driven out of the back way, sent off and sold. In order to carry on this wholesale robbery and avoid being exposed the Bowlings would send the hands about the yard to the theater, giving them money for that purpose. In addition to the cattle speculators they would draw about with them the cattle world over, of course pocketing the proceeds of the remainder. It is said that during the past year these enterprising gentlemen have swindled Uncle Sam out of fully $50,000. They are now under arrest, and their case will be fully investigated.

HARLEY'S POPULAR WORM CANDY is, as its name imports, truly a popular medicine for worms. (If we are able to judge from the great demand there is for it.) We have heard many persons say they give them to their children and it answered admirably well. We have no doubt the proprietors, Harley, Wade & Co., corner Seventh and Green, will have to employ a much larger force to supply the fast increasing demand. We wish them every success. dwl

THAT'S PANORAMA.—The audience at the grand theater was most agreeably entertained, on last night, with the exhibition. Mr. Travis' lecture, giving brief explanations of each picture, was well received. His remarks were graphic, humorous and frequently eloquent, as the audience abundantly testified by repeatedly applauding the speaker. It bounded in vivid descriptions of the mountain scenery of the localities from which many of his scenes are sketched, together with anecdotes and enclosures on the characters of the leading heroes of that grand old army. The paintings are well executed, displaying the highest merit as an artist. We earnestly recommend the public to witness the exhibition, believing that no one will fail to be educated and benefitted by receiving a full and accurate historical account of the campaigns of the Army of the Cumberland. The exhibition will continue for two nights. A band is in attendance.

A REMARKABLE FACT.—Those who have seen the Siamese Twins prepared by Dr. Larier, of this city, give it a high position as medical compound possessing remarkable qualities for curing disease. dwl

A NOBLE ACT.—Yesterday a barefooted, yet intelligent looking boy, made application to some of the officers at Maj. Gen. Palmer's headquarters for transportation to home in New York. Upon being questioned as to the right of transportation, the boy presented the following document on the humane officer whom he had so long and faithfully served as a servant:

LOST MOUNTAIN, May 25, 1865.

This boy, Michael O'Gorman, is entitled to fame, and is destined to become a hero in New York. Any Quarter-master who can furnish him with transportation over any of the military roads will much oblige the undersigned.

JOHN T. RITTER,
Captain 15th H. S. Inf.

The government ought to promote the spirit of "dalliance in the field." He bears the poor boy home without a cent, clothing a word of encouragement. The gentle officers and clerks at Maj. Gen. Palmer's headquarters furnished the boy with money and clothes, and sent him on his way home. That boy will remember "the general" whom he served so faithfully.

THE CIRCUIT COURT.—The following business was transacted before the Circuit Court, yesterday:

In re Hunt, Jarceny; convicted for two years and recommended to the clemency of the Governor.

The case of Adolph Myers and W. Hooker, indicted for larceny, were continued until the next term.

The court meets again at 9 o'clock this morning, when the criminal docket will no doubt be completed.

PICTURES OF THE FENIAN BROTHERHOOD.—The first annual plaste of the Fenians will be held at Park's Grove, on May 4th next. This beautiful grove is six miles from the city, and can be reached by the car which runs to Glendale's Point. The managers are making the most ample arrangements for the occasion. The Brothertown from neighboring cities have been invited to participate. Tickets one dollar.

KENTUCKY HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY.—In our notice of the exhibition of this society, last Saturday, we forgot to mention the wine made by Mr. Schaeffer from the Concord grape. It is a beautiful red wine, and was pronounced by the connoisseurs to be a very superior, delicate wine, equal to Burgundy. This may be considered "paying a good deal" but they know.

PAUL'S FURNITURE COMPANY.—This well-known establishment are meeting with success far beyond all expectation. The demand for chairs is still on the increase, so much so, that subscription books have been opened at the banking house of Messrs. Quigley, Morton & Co., and at the office of Mr. Geo. W. Wicks, Main street, between Third and Fourth. Any information concerning the company can be obtained at Mrs. Hoyt, at the office of Mr. Wicks. Oh! bound to be king.

CONCERT.—The colored portion of the community were delightfully entertained last night, at the Fifth street Colored Church, Alice Roxborou, Mrs. Johnson and others, gave a grand vocal and instrumental concert, all of which was fine. They performed to the satisfaction of all present.

HOMICIDE.—William Allen, formerly a soldier, went to the residence of his brother Joseph, a few nights ago, in Salem, Indiana, and stabbed him to death. He was arrested, tried and held to bail in the sum of $1,000 to answer. He has since escaped.

CONCERT.—We erroneously stated in our paper yesterday that a lady had been beaten to death. The man who committed the outrage is the person of a lady, in Nelson county, some time ago, and for whom a very heavy fine has been offered.

Business at the Provost Marshal's office is very sick of late. The negro press is very lively.

KENTUCKY LEGISLATURE.
ADJOURNED SESSION.
FRIDAY, May 29, 1865.
SENATE.
REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

Mr. Potts.—Finance.—A House bill for the benefit of Mr. Stanly Young, near Bardstown, and requested him to go to Bardstown and learn upon what conditions he could give himself up. Mr. Young went to town two or three times for the guerrilla, and after the third time he informed him to be ready to go in with him and all would be safe and satisfactory. The guerrilla, during this time, was stopping at a house in the neighborhood of Mr. Young's. It was agreed that they were to go to town together the next morning. That night, however, about midnight, Mr. Young, who is upwards of 80 years of age, was aroused by a loud knocking at the door. He got up and admitted the intruder. It was a negro in a Federal uniform. Mr. Young asked him his business, when he told him he had been forced to join a negro regiment, that he had run away, and wanted another suit of clothes and a gun with which to make his escape. Mr. Young told him he could not do either; whereupon he demanded.

Mr. Y., thinking he was armed, gave him some clothes and an old gun which had been loaded for some time. After getting the gun he demanded his money. Mr. Y. gave him $1.35, telling him that it was all the money he had. The negro struck the old man side of the head and knocked him down. He had partially arisen, when he was struck again and knocked down. Mr. Y. then drew a knife and arose again, and just as the gun was raised to strike him the third time, Mr. Y. ripped off the bowels of the man, of course killing him instantly. The news soon flew to the negro rendezvous, at New Haven, that one of their comrades had been murdered. A white officer, with a squad of men, went to the residence of Mr. Young to inquire into the matter. Upon arriving there, it was discovered that the supposed negro was none other than McCleary, the guerrilla above mentioned. He had disguised himself for the purpose of murdering Mr. Young.
